Fire at Jacksonville.

JACKSONVILLE, Oregon, October 17.—About half past one this morning a fire was discovered in Morris Mensor's brick store, but it had made such headway that it was impossible to extinguish it. Owing to the roof having lately been made fire proof and the building being a substantial one the fire was some hours in breaking out of it which facilitated the removal of frame buildings adjoining. By means of great energy on the part of our citizens the fire was kept from spreading and a large portion of the town saved. Mr Mensor being absent from town the loss is unknown but it is understood to be fully covered by insurance. The losses by tearing down buildings, moving etc. may approximate $500. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have resulted from the carelessness of the clerk.

The Hop Crop.

POYALLUP, W T, October 17.—The hop crop of the Puyallup Valley for the present year is 94,000 pounds. There is 120 acres new planted not in full bearing. The estimated yield for next year is a quarter of a million pounds.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Deas Creek dust assays $16 62½ and Thibert Creek dust $16 40 at San Francisco.

There will be about 150 men winter on Deas and Deloire creeks, and 50 or 75 more at Buck's Bar.

A new parsonage building is being erected at Granville, Burrard Inlet, for the Rev Mr Turner, Wesleyan Minister.

An election was held in Langley township on Saturday to fill the seat vacated by Mr Clarke. Mr W Jenkins was returned.

The following amounts were shipped through Wells Fargo on the 12th from Victoria: Bank British Columbia $29,733; Bank British North America $24,[illegible]; J Garesche $5,040. Total $59,296.

The charges against Collector Carr, of Fort Wrangell, are: Fining the steamer Gleanor $4,000 for changing her anchorage and putting the money in his pocket and blackmailing storekeepers to allow them to sell spirits.

The handsome racehorse known as Cariboo Charley, died at Ashcroft on Wednesday last from the effects of an accident. He was training for the Ashcroft races and ran a stake into his bowels. He was the fastest horse in the Province.

The Colonist speaking of the church difficulty in Victoria says: "The bill against the Dean was filed by the Lord Bishop's attorneys in the Supreme Court yesterday. The relentless persecutor of the Dean seems determined to push the matter to extremities and involve himself and the church in this Province in one common ruin."

A large mail was brought down to Victoria by the Otter but the express was left behind at Fort Wrangell. Some of the miners had heavy swags. Brady Kernan and two others who had a claim at the upper end of Deas creek, brought down about $60,000 between them. Mr R Lyons also brought a good swag. A foot of snow fell on the creek, thawed soon after and drowned out nearly all the companies. Only six or eight companies remain at work.

The steamer Otter arrived at Victoria on the 12th from Fort Wrangell. She reports that when she reached Wrangell a canoe full of friends came off and advised Capt. Lewis not to anchor, as the Collector of Customs had been put in jail by the officer commanding at Wrangell, and it was thought unlikely that the Otter, if she anchored, would be allowed to leave until after the California should have been to Sitka and returned again. The commanding officer and Mr Dennis of the Customs Department, soon came on board but neither of them would act in Mr Carr's place, so Captain Lewis considered that his best course was to go to Sitka without delay. Anchored at Sitka 3 P M on the 4th. Left again about noon on the 5th with Mr Daniels who had been commissioned to act as Deputy Collector at Wrangell and arrived there on the 6th.

Burr Smith, boat-builder at San Juan, died suddenly October 12th at the English Camp, of heart disease. Mr Smith built the schooner Favorite, steamers Emma and Maude and many other vessels now plying in Puget Sound and British waters.

A farmer from Chehalis county informs the Transcript that the wheat crop in his vicinity was not half a crop. The heads appeared to be plump and full, but upon thrashing did not turn out half as well as he expected, being hardly worth the trouble of harvesting in some places.

Messrs Powell who reside on the upper Nisqually, about thirty five miles from Yelm Prairie left on Monday last to trap for furs, along the streams further up the mountains. They annually obtain large numbers of otter, mink, bear, beaver and other furs which they sell in Chicago.

The delegations of the counties of Idaho, Nez Perce and Shoshone, constituting the First Judicial District of the Territory of Idaho, met in Boise City Monday October 12th and unanimously nominated S S Fenn as the Democratic nominee for District Attorney for the First Judicial District.

On Friday, the 9th inst, an altercation took place at Doc Corder's, on the overland road near Boise City, between Mr Silvey (brother of Tom Silvey) and the China cook about a dog. And Mr Chinaman becoming very angry rushed up stairs where Mrs Corder and Hattie Dunnigan were sitting sewing, got Mr Corder's derringer, and was in the act of cocking it, so as to be ready when he came in presence of Silvey, when it went off, striking Fred Dunnigan's daughter Hattie. The ball entered the upper portion of the thigh ranging downward. Dr Smith, who was sent for, extracted the ball just above the knee joint. John Chinaman during the excitement took leg bail and has not been heard from since.

The Indians on the Skokomish Reservation are getting along exceedingly well. Five logging camps are in successful operation, all entirely managed and run by the Indians, who have twelve ox teams engaged in hauling logs. During the last month they sold two booms of logs from the proceeds of which, after paying all expenses and purchasing some oxen, they divided $1,200 among those interested. Many have houses erected on the forty acre tracts recently surveyed by government. The agent has assisted them in building thirty of these houses and will put up ten more. The lumber for these buildings was purchased with their annuity money by their consent and desire. Mr Eells states that there are 300 Indians who live on and come and go from the reservation, but thinks the number belonging there to be 800, the reservation being too small to support them all.

OREGON LEGISLATURE.

EIGHTH BIENNIAL SESSION.

Phonographically reported for the Oregonian.

Senate—Morning Session.

SALEM, October 17, 1874.

The President called the Senate to order at the usual hour.

After roll call the session was opened with prayer by Rev. I S Knight.

The Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Mr CLARK from the Committee on Enrolled Bills reported S. B. [illegible] and S J M 4, correctly enrolled.

THE PORTLAND POLICE BILL.

The previous question was called for by Mr WATSON on the question pending last evening at adjournment—the adoption of Mr VanCleave's substitute for Mr Dolph's Portland Police Bill.

The previous question was ordered and the ayes and nays having been called on the motion to adopt, resulted as follows:

Yeas—Bristow, Clark, Crystal, Goodman, Haley, Herren, Jewell, Munkers, Myers, Offield, Savage, Townsend, VanCleave, Wisdom, Mr President—15.

Nays—Barnes, Cornelius, Dolph, Engle, Hanna, Hirsch, Lee, Owens, Richardson, Smith, Tolin, Watson, Webster, Witham—14. So the substitute was adopted.

The substitute provides that the Police Judge shall be appointed by the Mayor of the city subject to confirmation or rejection by the Council, gives him a salary of $1,800 a year and requires him to pay all fees received by him into the City Treasury. That the Chief of Police shall receive the same salary as under the present law and that he shall pay all fees received by him into the City Treasury. That the Police Commissioners shall be appointed one by the Governor, one by the Circuit Judge of the Fourth Judicial District, and one by the Mayor and to hold their offices for three years.

Mr DOLPH then moved that the substitute just adopted be indefinitely postponed.

Mr DOLPH made a half hour's speech in which he argued that the present system of police management in Portland was odious to a large majority of the people of that city; said that Tilman had received more votes in that county than both his competitors; said that Mr Hirsch was elected at the last election and that he made the canvass almost exclusively on that question; said that four out of seven of the Representatives in the House were elected on what was called the Independent or fusion ticket, and that three at least of them were in favor of the bill introduced by him (Dolph) which was in favor of restoring the right of appointing the police to the city in the same manner as when it did put it into the hands of his political opponents and the political opponents of a large majority of the voters of the city for the present; said that his bill made the Mayor and Police Judge two of the Commissioners, and allowed the Council to appoint the third, thus returning it to the people. He then reviewed the provisions of the substitute at considerable length and characterized it as un-Republican in almost every respect, and also reviewed the character of some of the Governor's appointees on the police force of Portland, and said that the people had been compelled to submit to the authority of a Chief of Police who had at the last session of the Legislature the brutality to attack a gentleman who chanced to differ with him on some political subject, with a bludgeon, and that he had good reason for believing that the substitute introduced by VanCleave was not original with him, but had been drawn up by a knot of politicians in Portland who expected to profit by its passage.

Mr VAN CLEAVE—The gentleman has ventured the assertion here that statements made by me on this floor last night were not true. Now if this is to hinge upon a question of veracity between the Senator and myself, for my part I am willing to submit to Senators and to those who best know both of us the question between us. The gentleman asserts that the minority report submitted by me last night was not original with me. Now, I say that not one word, idea or letter contained in it was suggested to me either in or out of this chamber by any person. And I am willing to submit the question of veracity to any person that is acquainted with us both. He denied that a majority of the voters of Portland were in favor of Dolph's bill and read from the platform on which he claimed that he was elected by a large majority to prove that they were in favor of the substitute introduced by himself.

Mr HIRSCH said he had not intended to take any part in this discussion and would not but for the assertions made by the gentleman last on the floor. Said he, too, had been elected from that county and that he had boldly advocated the measures contained in Mr Dolph's bill in every precinct in the county, and had Mr VanCleave had studiously avoided committing himself on the subject, although he had asked him to express himself at almost every place where they had spoken, and said that if he (Mr VanCleave) had expressed himself in favor of the measure he was now advocating he would never have been elected. Said he had asked Mr VanCleave repeatedly to state to the people whom he intended to support for Governor but never succeeded in getting him to express himself; but I have the best reason for saying that he did support Governor Grover.

Mr VAN CLEAVE—I did support him, and I do not suppose there is a man in Portland but knows, or in the State that is acquainted with me but knows it. I hope that is sufficiently explicit to satisfy the gentleman.

Mr HIRSCH—That is just what I tried to get out of him in the canvass and not one of the candidates on his ticket dared to say that they would vote for Grover.

Mr TOWNSEND had been very much in hopes that the members from Multnomah would be able to settle among themselves a bill that would be satisfactory to all, but they had failed to do so and now it had devolved upon this body to do so for them as near as possible. Said that he did not understand that this bill did take away the right of local self government, as from the representations that had been made he thought a majority of the people were in favor of the passage of this substitute.

Mr WATSON replied briefly to Mr Townsend. Said that he (Townsend) was a great stickler for the right of self government in theory, but when it came to put it in practice he seemed ready at any time to bolt his principles. Wanted to know what the principle was worth if it was to be violated every time those in power chose to think there was a necessity for taking the people's franchises from them.

Mr MYERS spoke in favor of the substitute. He said he thought the people of Portland were in favor of it and referred to the election of Mr VanCleave on a platform embodying the principles contained in this bill.

Mr DOLPH—How came Hirsch to be elected?

Mr MYERS—I don't know but I will give the gentleman my idea of it if he wishes. Does the gentleman wish it.

Mr DOLPH—I don't care what you say, you can make any assertion you please, I suppose.

Mr MYERS—Well this is my idea. Mr Hirsch is a very cute man and he succeeded in getting around the temperance men and ran as a temperance candidate and then he got around the whisky men and run as a whisky man.

Mr HIRSCH—That is not so, that is untrue.

Mr DOLPH—No that is not so but it is true of the Democrats and one of the most prominent of them was drunk the first day he was here.

The CHAIR called the gentleman to order and the vote was then taken on the motion to indefinitely postpone the substitute with the following result:

Yeas—Barnes, Cornelius, Dolph, Engle, Hanna, Hirsch, Lee, Owens, Richardson, Smith, Tolin, Watson, Webster, Witham—14.

Nays—Bristow, Clark, Crystal, Goodman, Haley, Herren, Jewell, Munkers, Myers, Offield, Savage, Townsend, VanCleave, Wisdom, Mr President—15.

So the motion was lost.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The select committee to which was referred the bill to amend the charter of East Portland reported the same back and recommended its passage.

Under suspension of the rules the bill was read a third time and passed.

Mr DOLPH from the committee to whom was referred H B 10 allowing Clerks and Sheriffs to appoint deputies reported the same back with an amendment striking out the words "not to exceed three dollars."

Adjourned.

Afternoon Session.

Senate resumed at the usual hour.

On motion of Mr MYERS the Senate resolved itself into Committee of the Whole.

THE INSANE ASYLUM.

On motion, the bill reported by the committee appointed to examine and report on the condition of the Insane Asylum was taken up and read for information. The bill authorizes the Governor to contract with Dr Hawthorne for the keeping of the insane at no more than $6 per week for each patient.

Mr BRISTOW offered amendments to the bill which strikes out the name of Dr Hawthorne wherever it occurs and inserts any good and responsible person and makes other changes in the bill so as to make it a general law allowing all responsible persons to compete for the contract.

Mr BRISTOW moved the adoption of the amendments.

Pending the motion Mr SAVAGE presented a bill authorizing the Governor to contract with A C and R C Kinney for the keeping of the insane in accordance with the proposition made to the Senate a few days ago, the provisions of which were published in the OREGONIAN, and moved that it be adopted as a substitute for the Hawthorne bill.

Mr BRISTOW withdrew his motion to adopt the amendments proposed by himself and seconded the motion to adopt the substitute.

After a long discussion Mr CORNELIUS moved that the Committee arise and report S B [illegible] Dr Hawthorne's bill and recommend that it do pass.

The motion prevailed and the Committee arose and the PRESIDENT resumed the Chair and Mr HALEY, Chairman of the Committee, then reported in accordance with instructions.

Mr CORNELIUS moved that the report of the Committee be adopted.

Mr MYERS offered an amendment to the bill to strike out $6 per week and insert $[illegible].

The amendment was adopted and the motion to adopt the report of the Committee prevailed.

Adjourned.

House—Morning Session.

The House met at the usual hour.

Chaplain—Rev. Father McCormick.

On motion Mr Shedd was granted leave of absence.

The SPEAKER stated that several bills reported by various committees, had inadvertently been allowed to fall out of their order and were lying on the table. He suggested that it might be advisable to suspend the rules and take them up.

Whereupon, on motion of Mr GALLOWAY the House took up the third order of business—Bills, Reports and other Business lying on the table.

Mr FIDDLER moved that H B 1 in relation to fees of officers, H B 7 to amend the law concerning fees of officers, H B 60 to create the office of Assistant Treasurer of State, H B 68 to amend the school law, H B 58 to amend section 3 of chapter 80 of miscellaneous laws, H B 75 to amend chapter 10 of chapter 5 of the civil code, H B 80 for the relief of Wasco county, H B 81 to amend the several acts relative to pilotage and towage on the Columbia and Willamette rivers, H B [illegible] to amend the law relative to Justices of the Peace, H B [illegible] to amend sections [illegible] of title 1 of chapter 6 of the civil code, H B [illegible] to amend the law relative to the jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace, H B [illegible] to amend the civil code of civil procedure be ordered engrossed and read third time to-morrow.

Mr MAYS moved that the rules be suspended and H B 81 be put on its passage now.

The motion was lost and the former motion prevailed.

H J M [illegible]—asking Congress to reimburse this State for extraordinary expenses incurred in raising troops to protect our frontiers from Indians during the civil war was on motion of Mr CRANSTON, adopted. Messrs Fidler, Gearin, Ledgerwood, Noyer and VanRiper voting no.

H J M [illegible]—asking Congress to appropriate money for the construction of a breakwater at Cape Foulweather was taken up.

Mr REED objected that he thought the language of the memorial was too sweeping. He did not want to vote for a memorial which asserted that there was no refuge for ships between the Columbia river and the Golden Gate.

On motion the memorial was referred to a select committee of three. The Speaker appointed as such committee Messrs. Chambers, Reed of Marion and Dully.

The Committee on Engrossed Bills reported H B No 72, 39 [illegible] and 10 correctly engrossed.

THIRD READING OF BILLS.

H B 97—substitute for H B [illegible]—to provide for the appointment of a Clerk of the Supreme Court and fix his compensation. It authorizes the Court or a majority of the judges thereof in vacation to appoint a clerk, prohibits the clerk from practicing or having a partner who practices in said court; the award of fees is to be ascertained and ordered paid by the Court in accordance with law and the Secretary is to draw a warrant for the same upon the presentation of such order. Sections 1, 3 and 5 of chapter 5 are repealed and all other laws inconsistent therewith are repealed. The Act to take effect from and after its approval.

The bill passed, Messrs Gearin, Stott and Mr Speaker voting no.

H B 7[illegible]—to provide for the registration of electors. (A summary of the provisions of this bill has already been given in the OREGONIAN and need not be repeated here.)

Mr STOTT said he did not wish to enter into a detailed examination of the provisions of the bill. He supposed the members had considered it for themselves and were prepared to vote for it. This was pre-eminently a reform Legislature. They were sent here to remedy as far as possible the evils afflicting the body politic. There is nothing of which we hear so much complaint in the country as of fraudulent voting and the corruption of the ballot box. It is a well known fact that our own elections have in more than one instance been carried by bribery and others had been put up and sold to the highest bidder. We want to stop that. Nearly every other State had found it necessary to enact a law of this kind. It is true this is a long bill but it is as short as practicable—much shorter than that of California. The fact is notorious that at the Congressional election last fall hundreds of men voted three or four times apiece. It is true this law will be attended with some expense but it costs three times as much to prosecute the men voting in violation of law as this registration will cost.

Mr DRAIN (Mr Reed of Marion in the Chair) said he disliked to be found opposing this bill but he felt compelled to do it. A careful examination he thought would convince any one that to enforce it would cost more than any and all the expenses of the county. Although there may have been frauds in some counties he did not believe the people would justify the passage of so expensive a measure as this to prevent this. In Douglas county some people would have to travel 1[illegible]0 miles to register their names. The fact that frauds have been committed in other parts of the State would not justify him in voting for this measure as he did not believe it to be for the best interests of all the people that it should pass.

Mr CORNELL—We hear that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. I assure you sir in some quarters our liberties are in danger. Perhaps I have had more experience in this matter than any other gentleman in this House. I am a citizen of one of the precincts in Portland where there have been large frauds in the elections. The propriety of passing this act seems to me to be beyond question. In my county the result of an election is frequently determined by the caprice of men whose votes are bought with money. I do think citizens of other counties should be willing to forego some conveniences to enable us to rid ourselves of this evil.

Mr CRANSTON said the evils of the present system might not be so apparent in some outside counties as they are in others but he thought the necessity for a registry law existed in many of them. He knew there was in the county he represented. He referred to the charges relative to the use of the money appropriated for a State Capitol building. He did not doubt the money had in the main been fairly used. Yet he was satisfied some men had been employed there solely for the purpose of getting the rest, and others had been discharged because it had been found that they were not going to vote right. He did not charge these things upon one party more than another. They were all guilty alike.

Mr DUFUR had favored such a bill even before this was drawn up. He believed the interest of Multnomah county especially demands the passage of this measure. Without entering into the particular merits of the bill it seemed to him that any man ought to be willing to undergo any reasonable sacrifice for the sake of securing the purity of the ballot.

Mr BROWN thought this Legislature was sent here to economize. After cutting down the fees of various officers here was a bill proposing to impose a greater expense than any of them. He had heard no complaints outside of Multnomah county.

Mr STEEN thought this bill went to the root of the present abuses. If our institutions are in danger from any cause it is from the corruption of the ballot. He would vote for the bill.

Mr GEARIN had not anticipated such opposition to this bill. He regretted to see members opposing it on the ground of economy who were sent here for reform. It would be impossible to accomplish anything unless we took away from the politicians the power to corrupt the ballot. Corrupt voting was not confined to Multnomah county as gentlemen seemed to suppose. There was scarcely a county in this State that had not been colonized at some time or another. This act was not so expensive as some seemed to think. All residents would be registered by the Assessor. Nobody would be required to visit the county seat unless it was some one who had arrived in the county just before the election was to come off and it would be no great hardship for such a man to do so much for the privilege of voting.

Messrs CHAMBERS and MATLOCK also spoke against the bill and Messrs STOTT, LEE and REED in its defense.

Upon the question shall the bill pass the vote was as follows:

Yeas—Blake, Bruce, Cornell, Cranston, Darst, Dean, Dufur, Fidler, Galloway, Gearin, Gilbert, Jackson, Johnson, Kelly of Benton, Kelly of Multnomah, Lane, Laughlin, Lee, Ledgerwood, Mays, Mathieu, Partlow, Reed of Marion, Riddle, Rinearson, Roe, Ross, Scott, Simpson, Stannard, Stearns, Steen, Stott, Stump, Wasson, Wilson, Wright of Jackson—37.

Nays—Bradshaw, Brown, Butler, Chandler, Chambers, Crawford, Curl, Doak, Dully, Florence, Hays, Matlock, McGugin, McClung, Noyer, Plymale, Reed of Clackamas, Shelton, VanRiper, Wright of Union, and Mr Speaker—21.

Absent—Jewett and Shedd.

So the bill passed.

H B 38, substitute for H B 6—to promote the study of anatomy passed—35 to 21.

THE WINNEMUCCA BILL.

H B 99, substitute for H B 3[illegible]—to provide for the construction of a railroad from the Columbia river to Winnemucca.

Mr DUFUR moved to adjourn, which motion was lost.

Mr REED moved a call of the House which was also lost.

Mr FIDLER did not know that there would be much opposition to this measure. It did not ask an appropriation at our hands. However he was disposed to regret as a fallacy the notion that the building of railroads alone would ensure the prosperity of the State. His chief objection to the bill was that it connected the State with an enterprise that would probably never succeed, at least within this generation. He thought it better that the State should lend its assistance to enterprises already inaugurated than to be taking stock in new ones which had so little chance for success.

Mr CHAMBERS also opposed and Mr REED favored the bill.

On motion of Mr FLORENCE the House adjourned.

Afternoon Session.

The House resumed consideration of the Winnemucca bill.

Mr BRADSHAW thought it was a matter of very great importance. No proposition had ever been made which was of so much consequence to the people of this valley. He was surprised at the opposition to it and especially at the source from which it comes.

A motion by Mr REED for a call of the House prevailed. The roll was accordingly called and Messrs Mathieu and Wright of Union failed to answer.

Mr RIDDLE moved that the further call of the House be dispensed with. Carried.

Mr STOTT thought members opposing would at least be able to give some reason for so doing. But it seemed to him they had so far signally failed. The exigency of the times demanded that some railroad should be built. This railroad was just as much needed, perhaps more so, so far as the people of this valley are concerned as the [illegible] and S [illegible] for the assistance of which we passed a bill the other day. He believed if this bill should pass the road would be constructed and he was ready to give all reasonable encouragement.

Messrs Reed, Galloway, Plymal and Cranston continued the debate in favor of the bill and Messrs Fidler, Chambers and Butler against it.

On the question shall the bill pass? the vote resulted as follows:

Yeas—Blake, Bradshaw, Brown, Chandler, Cornell, Crawford, Cranston, Darst, Dean, Doak, Dufur, Galloway, Gearin, Gilbert, Hays, Johnston, Kelly of Benton, Kelly of Multnomah, Laughlin, Lee, Ledgerwood, Mays, Mathieu, McClung, Noyer, Partlow, Plymale, Reed of Marion, Roe, Simpson, Stannard, Steen, Scott, Stump, VanRiper, Wilson, Wright of Jackson, Wright of Union—38.

Nays—Bruce, Butler, Chambers, Curl, Dully, Fidler, Florence, Jackson, Lane, Matlock, McGugin, Reed of Clackamas, Riddle, Rinearson, Ross, Shelton, Stearns, Steen, Wasson and Mr Speaker—20.

Absent—Jewett and Shelton.

So the bill passed.

BILLS PASSED.

H B 9[illegible] to amend section 1028 of the code of civil procedure in reference to the recovery of property was read third time and passed.

H B 101 to provide for liens of mechanics, laborers, material men and others and prescribing the means of their enforcement, was read third time and passed. Messrs Butler, Fidler and Hays voting no.

H B 1[illegible] to legalize acknowledgments of deeds taken by county clerks in certain cases—legalizes acknowledgments taken by county clerks between May 1st, 1854 and 21st December 1855 and between the 21st October 1864 and the 20th January 18[illegible]—was passed. Mr Wilson voting no.

H B 105—to amend the city charter of Salem, extending the corporate limits, providing that city officers shall hold office for two years was read third time and passed unanimously.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

A message was received from the Governor intimating that he approved and signed S B 4, creating, organizing, and locating the University of the State of Oregon and S B 38 for the protection of buoys and beacons.

SENATE BILLS INTRODUCED.

S B 79—to authorize the County Court of Lane to appropriate funds and levy a tax for the erection and completion of the State University.

S B 88—to provide for the education of deaf mutes, appropriating $10,000.

S B 91—amending the various acts concerning fees of officers. Read by title and ordered printed.

S B 29—to provide for the [illegible] and regulation of the Institute for the bli[illegible], appropriating $4,000.

S B 31—amending the act incorporating East Portland read twice by title and considered engrossed for third reading.

The House then resumed the third reading of engrossed bills and H B 108, Bradshaw, in relation to partition fences, was taken up.

Pending the vote on its passage the House adjourned until the usual hour Monday morning.

Mrs Grant who lives in Polk county near King's valley, killed two deer on Tuesday of last week. On the Monday previous she killed a very large fat buck. This lady has now killed eighteen deer since she resided on the Luckiamute and is one of the most successful shots in that section of the country.

We are informed that in the great thunder storm witnessed in King's valley, Benton county, on the 9th inst. the lightning struck in several places on the farm of Hon. James Chambers. At one place along a whole line of fence the rails and stakes were shivered to splinters. The men harvesting were stunned—two of them—and one or two persons in the house were knocked down by the current of electricity. The storm was one of great grandeur and force and one the like of which is seldom seen in Oregon.

The Journal says: I W Kanoff and brother have raised this year on thirteen acres of ground in the McKenzie river bottom about seven miles from Eugene City, 12,500 pounds of hops, which they sold at 27½ cents per pound, amounting to $3,430. The expense of harvesting the hops was $600, leaving $2,830 clear of expense for their summer's work. This being the first crop it was only half a crop, 2,000 pounds being considered a fair yield in Oregon. In New York State 800 pounds per acre is about the average while 2,000 is the average here after the first year. Next year they expect to have 25,000 pounds on their thirteen acres, and if the price is the same as this year they will clear about $6,000.

OPEN UP AND DEVELOP.

Since his election, Mr Mitchell has worked diligently to promote the interests of all the Northwestern section and instead of endeavoring to weaken his influence it should be the aim of those who have control of the public press to strengthen his arm that he may work more effectually in securing material assistance from the Government to open up and develop the vast inland empire.—Walla Walla Statesman.

The open up and develop part of it is what we have never been able to see. If securing an appropriation of $90,000 for building a Custom House in Portland when we had a Custom House at Astoria sufficient for all the necessities of the State for the next quarter of a century and getting an appropriation of only $7,000 for improving the Wallamet, if this is the way that Mitchell opens up and develops we want none of it. This wonderful Senator with an alias opened up and developed a way for the bribers and thieves of Portland to escape the just punishment due their crimes last year by striking down an officer of the law who had the manhood and virtue to prosecute and bring them to justice. He also laid a plan to open up and develop Alaska Territory by attempting to get a bill through Congress to have certain lands surveyed. But it was found that the honorable Senator was acting as attorney in the interest of a lot of land sharks and speculators who were thus preparing a way to gobble up all the valuable timber and mineral lands in that Territory.—Independent.

The New Albany, Indiana, glass works have received an iron plate weighing 60,000 pounds, to be used for casting plate-glass. The casting cost $2,000 and will cast a plate of glass six and a half by nine and a half feet in size.

It is fourteen years since the Democracy have had a President and if they don't knock off some of the old clinker that sticks to them it will be several times fourteen years before they have another.—Brooklyn Argus.

OREGON STATE FAIR.

FOURTEENTH ANNUAL FAIR OF THE OREGON STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

PREMIUMS FOR FLOWERS.

Mrs Ira Erb received 1st premiums for best eight varieties mosses, asters in bloom, five varieties tuberoses in bloom, ten varieties white monthly roses, arbutilone in bloom, nutmeg geranium (sweepstakes). Second prems for fuschias in bloom, double geraniums in bloom, climbing plants and foliage plants 30 varieties and Lady Washington geraniums.

Mrs Belle W Cooke received 2d prems for leaf picture and pressed flower picture.

Mrs George Cooke received 1st prems for monthly rose 3 varieties, double geranium, verbenas, 6 varieties in bloom, Lady Cornelius fuschias, monthly rose (pink), wild flowers, leaf pictures, pressed flower pictures. Second prems for double red fuschias, cactus, hanging baskets, heliotropes in bloom, pansies, oleanders, nutmeg geranium, arbutilon (5 varieties), foreign evergreens, monthly rose (yellow), bouquet everlasting flowers, bouquet mixed flowers, and floral design, ornamental.

Mrs Geo W Byrd, 1st prem for floral design ornamental.

Miss Inez V Adair, 1st prem for portulacca in bloom, and 2d prem for mosses, 12 varieties.

Mrs J D Smith 1st prems for carnation pinks and stocks in bloom. Second prems for cockscombs.

Miss Viola Wortley, 2d prem for moss flowers.

Mrs V Davis 1st prem for cockscombs.

Mrs M E Stimpson, 2d prem for bouquets of dahlias.

Mrs A Worth, 1st prem for balsams in bloom.

Miss Mary B. McMurray, 1st prem for leaf picture.

I S Pfunder 1st premiums for fuschias in bloom, hanging baskets, heliotropes in bloom, rose geraniums, double red fuschias, foliage plants, bouquet of roses, bouquet of dahlias, and bouquet of everlasting flowers. 2d premiums for tuberose in bloom and Lady Cornelius fuschia.

Mrs A J Beeler 1st premiums for bouquet of mixed flowers and exhibition hydrangea, 2d premiums for bouquet of roses, and bouquet of wild flowers.

Henry Miller 1st premiums for cactus, foreign evergreens and oleander in bloom.

Mrs E Y Chase, 1st premium for Calla lily.

Mrs O J Carr 1st premium for Lady Washington geranium.

Sixth Day.

SATURDAY, Oct. 17, 1874.

The day opened with a very heavy fog and quite chilly but indicated a fine day. At an early hour the campers, who had no particular business, began to strike their tents and roll out, but the pavilion at an early hour was crowded by those who had premiums to draw, and others to obtain their articles that had been placed on exhibition.

For the purpose of expediting business, those who were to receive premiums were formed in line similar to [illegible] of elections or at the postoffice, and patient had to be those who lived at a distance, as well as those who lived near, but all were good natured, as the Society was paying off in full, which, unfortunately could not be done for the last two years, but the remarkable fine weather was a great assistance, and if wheat had commanded as good a price as last year, there would have been 3,000 more people present and the Society would have been able to have paid all of their debts that hang over them so oppressively.

ACCIDENTS, ETC.

About 11 o'clock an auctioneer, who was riding recklessly around through the crowd, ran over and knocked down a gentleman, who resented the same by causing the auctioneer's arrest. The man who was knocked down came near being seriously hurt.

At the big horse race on Friday one of the Marshals in clearing the track, ran over a man accidentally, and gave him a tremendous fall, but the crowd said it was right as he had been requested to get out of the way several times.

A team ran away last night containing several passengers, but were soon checked without any one being hurt, but the tongue of the wagon was changed into kindling wood, while one of the wheels was badly smashed.

MISCELLANEOUS.

There was a lively trade sprung up at an early hour and continued until a late hour. The fascinating influence of several noisy auctioneers was invoked to dispose of innumerable articles both of utility and ornament. There was quite a number of pictures disposed of and evidently brought remunerative prices, while the trade was carried on in bouquets of everlasting flowers. Hon L R Moores has again laid in a good supply of specimens of grains of this State for the purpose of exhibition at the railroad office in Portland.

This fair has demonstrated the fact that the people look to it as an annual source of profit and amusement. And more people have come from very distant counties than ever before, several being from Josephine and Jackson in the south and Grant and Union in the east, and all express themselves well satisfied. The gentlemen from the Eastern States all express surprise at the size and perfection of the fruits and grains.

RACE.

The only race to-day was a pacing one, mile heats, best two in three, for $100. W Gird entered Shoo Fly and Mr Whitfield entered Sconchin. Sconchin got the first heat. Time—2:49½. Shoo Fly took the other two heats, and declared the winner of the race. Time—2:39½, 2:47½. The public took little interest in the race. It was a good opportunity for the knowing ones making a little money, and a favorable occasion for fleecing country boys and greenhorns.

There were several scrub running races in the afternoon by young men from the country who had old disputes about the merits of their respective steeds to settle. Now was their opportunity and they enjoyed it much.

DRAFT HORSES—PULLING.

There was a trial of strength by pulling on the grounds that exacted a good deal of interest—quite a number witnessed the competition. Two teams competed. S Duncan's team, famous in this department, pulled until his rival had to surrender. Mr Duncan got the prize.

PLOWING MATCH.

This competition being conducted by boys with horse teams, caused much interest among farmers and their sons. There were only two competitors. Melancthon Hunt was awarded the first prize, and J G Glenn the second. The quantity plowed was about half an acre by each.

There was only one competitor for plowing with oxen. Frank Hertford, a lad of only 11 years of age, was deservedly praised for the manner in which he handled his team, and the satisfactory way in which he executed his work. He was awarded the blue ribbon.

Proceedings of the Board of Managers.

For the general information of your readers, I send the [illegible]

MONDAY, Oct 12, 1874.

Board of Managers met pursuant to the rules of the Society.

Present—C P Burkhart, President; E M Waite, Secretary; James Tatom, Vice President, and a majority of the Board.

The meeting was called to order by the President.

A proposition from the horse-men was presented, and on motion the proposition was accepted and is as follows:

"We, the undersigned owners and trainers of trotting and running horses, pledge ourselves to not start or allow to be started any of our horses in the trials of speed unless the authorities of said Fair change the rule requiring five to enter and three to start, and receive the entries that may be made and give the premiums as offered, and where the entries are not equal to the number of premiums, the [illegible] to be equally divided among those that do start. The reasons assigned are, first, the premiums offered are illiberal, a mere nothing; that heretofore the entries have been liberal, in some cases exceeding the amount of premiums given, and we feel we have been badly neglected and feel a spirit of resentment."

Signed by eighteen of the gentlemen who had horses on the ground.

Mr Elliott informed the Board that he had been authorized to accept the position of Mr James Hamilton, who had been appointed Superintendent in Division C—sheep. And on motion Mr Elliott was appointed to fill said vacancy.

The Marshal was authorized to close up all gambling devices.

The Treasurer was ordered to pay all orders on the Treasury on to-morrow as per agreement of the Society.

In regard to the matter of the auctioneer, the President stated that the matter would be taken under advisement.

On motion a premium was offered on straw and manilla paper equal to that on printing paper.

On motion, a diploma was offered for the best exhibit of socks and grain bags manufactured in Oregon.

The running race of Thursday was fixed at 3 P M instead of 5 P M.

On motion, it was ordered that a purse of $150 be offered for all running horses, [illegible] heats, on Wednesday, October 14th, at 1:30 P. M., and that the farmer's premium be changed to 10 A. M., and that on Thursday a premium of $150 be offered for trotting horses, [illegible] heats, the race to come off at 1:30 P. M.

On motion, adjourned.

TUESDAY, Oct. 13, 1874.

Board met pursuant to the rules.

Mr Boem announced that in lieu of the [illegible] advertised (there being no entries), the purse money be offered for all trotting horses, and same distance [illegible], that the race advertised be first declared by public outcry.

On motion, the proposition was adopted.

On motion a diploma was offered for best exhibit of [illegible] flax.

On motion, the number of pounds of [illegible] in the list was stricken out.

On motion a premium of $3 on [illegible] oil was offered.

On motion, the Board offered a gold [illegible] for the best display of agricultural implements.

On motion, the Superintendent was ordered to examine the stock of Mr Newby and award meritorious premium.

On motion, the sum of $2 was offered for best exhibit of canes.

On motion Messrs West & Co were tendered a resolution of thanks for a present of canned meats.

On motion, adjourned.

FRIDAY, Oct 16 1874.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

The Secretary [illegible] a request from Mr. Wilshire, agent of Hall's safe.

On motion the safes were awarded a first premium of a silver medal.

Mr Downing (Marshal) [illegible] in regard to the selling of pools by [illegible]

On motion, the license of J R Hart was ordered [illegible]

On motion, the Board allowed articles to be sold by auction in the pavilion after the rules had been complied with.

On motion, the entries of Mr C E D[illegible] for 1873, were ordered refunded.

On motion, the sum of $10 was allowed to the party who exhibited 1,000 squirrel tails.

On motion, a purse of $100 was offered for all pacing races, mile heats, 2 in 3, in harness and to rule, at 1 o'clock Saturday.

Mr Elliott and Mr Tatom were appointed a committee to correct all mistakes in the award of premiums.

On motion, Mr. Downing was awarded a diploma on saddle [illegible].

In the matter of jewelry displayed by E. F. Stone, the Board indefinitely postponed action.

F E Hosford was allowed a diploma.

On motion, W P Watson was awarded a diploma for exhibit of peach plums and soft almonds.

On motion M Gray was allowed a gold and silver medal in place of his diploma stolen from the pavilion in 1873, and to bear that date.

Mrs A J Dunway was awarded a silver cup.

On motion, adjourned.

Annual Meeting of the State Agricultural Society.

The Society met pursuant to the Constitution at the Pavilion at 7 P M., M Wilkins, Chairman.

Quorum present.

Mr Elliott presented the name of T J Apperson for life membership, and paid $20.

The Constitution was amended so as to read "third Tuesday in November."

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING OCTOBER 19 1874.

WHAT HAVE THE PEOPLE SAID?

In course of the discussion on Senator VanCleave's substitute for Dolph's Police bill, which took place last Friday night and Saturday Mr Dolph and Mr Hirsch made some statements of a most remarkable character considering the actual facts in the case, and the evidence of those facts that is within the reach of everybody Both of these Senators for instance said that Mr Hirsch made the campaign last spring and was elected especially upon the issue presented in this discussion and that Dolph's bill was simply carrying out the position taken by Mr Hirsch's party before the voters of Multnomah county This is all bosh It has not the shadow of truth in it Mr Hirsch's platform had no reference to the Police of the city, except this resolution

> Resolved That we demand economy in the administration of county affairs and that we condemn the enormously expensive Police system of this city, by which taxation is greatly increased

It is here seen that the only question presented by Hirsch's party about the police was, that it was too expensive The same objection was made by all parties Dolph's bill leaves that feature of the system uncorrected. He attacks the present system on purely political grounds, for purely political purposes, leaving it as expensive as ever He desires only to get it so changed that the money can be turned to account in pushing the political fortunes of himself and his ring, and if that is done all the pledges of his party to reduce the expenses of the system may go to the winds

Mr Van Cleave's substitute does strike at the question of expense It provides, by suitable words that can not be rendered nugatory through technical objections for the Police Judge and Chief of Police to pay the fees they collect into the City Treasury and be content with their liberal salaries, and it gives the Common Council elected by the people the right to limit the number of Policemen By this last item alone there would have been saved to the city thousands of dollars during the past two years, had the same provision been in the Charter Van Cleave's bill should it become a law will reduce the expenses of the Police Department of the City Government not less than $12,000 per year, without in the least injuring the efficiency of the police force This is capable of demonstration

The whole argument of Dolph and Hirsch against Van Cleave's substitute is, that the people of Portland have declared against the Governor having anything to do with the Police of the city Let us see how far this is true Bear in mind that the resolution of the ring party on the subject, which we have given above, made no reference whatever to that branch of the subject The question was studiously avoided by the ring party But not so with the People's convention After declaring for economy in local administration they defined their position on the Police Commission in this resolution

> 4 That the Charter of Portland should be so amended as to make the Board of Police Commissioners consist of the Mayor of the city (who should be the President of the Board) and two Commissioners appointed by the Governor, and the Common Council should have power to fix the number of police officers by ordinance

Upon this unequivocal declaration Mr Van Cleave was elected, leading Mr Hirsch by 134 votes and the other ring candidate by 201 Hirsch commenced with the Temperance party by day, by committing adultery with the liquor dealers organization by night, and circulated at all times a false report that Judge Strong, the [illegible] of the People's candidate was opposed to the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake railway, and with all this beat Strong 19 votes Strong was beaten by Hirsch on side issues while Van Cleave was triumphantly elected on the square issue made in the platform

This was an election by the entire county But as this police question is one that peculiarly affects the city of Portland and in which those outside the city are only incidentally and indirectly concerned, it will be in place to ask what the city says on the subject. The answer is a still more emphatic contradiction of assertions made by Dolph and Hirsch The general election above referred to was held on the first day of April Just two weeks later, on the 15th of June, a city election came off The party of Messrs Dolph and Hirsch put their ticket into the field and the party of Mr Van Cleave put in theirs. In this election only the city voted There was no Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake issue The positions of the two parties respectively, on the police question, were well known and fresh in the minds of the voters How stood the result in that contest? The record answers the People's ticket was elected over the ring ticket by a clear majority of 549 votes—the largest majority known in Portland for years and years

We have thus shown by the record how utterly false are the declarations of Dolph and his echo in reference to the sentiment of the people of this city The people of this city have declared overwhelmingly in favor of a plan that would leave in the hands of the Governor the appointment of two of the Police Commissioners but Mr VanCleave's bill does not go so far It proposes to have one appointed by the Governor, one by the Mayor, and the third by the Circuit Judge—Judge Shattuck—who is elected mainly by Portland's vote, and who, on VanCleave's platform, beat his opponent last June by a larger majority than anybody ever received for Judge of this District even in the passion-ruled days of the rebellion

It appears probable that the barbarism of Mormondom is to have a tussle with civilization in the courts of the Territory A dispatch of the 8th inst., from Salt Lake City says Thos E. Hicks has been indicted for the crime of lascivious cohabitation committed by having five or six wives at once His own daughter is one of the principal witnesses

On Oct 6th two graves in a Buffalo cemetery were opened and the occupants carried away. The fact was discovered next day and a search for the bodies found them in the dissecting room of a medical institution of the city Thirty nine students were arrested and held to bail to answer the crime

THE WINNEMUCCA BILL PAST THE HOUSE

On Saturday forenoon the Winnemucca railway bill passed the House by a handsome majority, without amendment or alteration in any respect. It differs from the original bill first offered, only in the particulars agreed upon some two weeks since and reported in the OREGONIAN

The opposition of the ring continued to the last minute, only some of the more politic of the ring managers perceiving the hopelessness of their endeavor to defeat this great enterprise withdrew from the contest as a matter of policy There was some conscientious objection to the bill, among persons who probably had not given the subject as much attention as it merited, but they were not at all strenuous in insisting upon their views In fact, they were rather doubters than opposers and were, we believe not at all sorry to see the measure go through

Unless we greatly mistake the importance of this measure cannot well be overestimated So short is the road to be built before a connection is secured, and so great are the resources of the district of country through which it will pass that there are unusual inducements to capitalists to invest their surplus means in the enterprise The outlay will be but small when compared with the cost of building long lines over rugged and difficult regions, and in proportion as the cost is small will the time be short before the road is earning money In addition to these facts we have information that very considerable assistance may be expected from that part of Nevada which is penetrated by the line of the proposed road We have already given publicity to the statement that the company owning the land granted to the Oregon Central Military Road Company, propose to give a large proportion of their lands to aid in building the road This is a valuable grant, and will assist the enterprise very materially

Under all these circumstances it is believed that the passage of the bill through the Senate, will secure the construction of the road at an early day

THE PREDICTION AND THE REALIZATION

The New York Times of the 5th instant had a special from Washington dated the 4th, in which the Republican National Committee's ideas of the result of the election in Ohio were stated at length In connection with the telegraphic report of the result, received a day or two ago, it may be interesting to compare the predictions of those shrewd politicians with the facts as they turned out at last Here is the statement of the outlook at that time

> News from Ohio is very favorable for the prospects of Republican success in the approaching election The Republicans are confident of carrying the State by a goodly majority In the Ninth Congressional District James W Robinson who had but a small majority at his last election, may be defeated At least his re election is doubtful R C Parsons, in the Cleveland district, is having a hard contest and his success is doubtful, though he may be returned It is predicted that all the other Republican members will surely be returned News generally from the Northwest and North is of a character favorable to the Republicans retaining a large majority in the next House—a much larger majority indeed than was expected a month ago would be held

The State went overwhelming Democratic, Robinson and Parsons were both beaten, and four other Republican districts elected Democratic Congressmen, and now the Republican papers are acknowledging, with manifest alarm, that there is a strong probability the next House of Representatives will be Democratic Such is political life The brightest hopes of one day are withered the next

THE REPUBLIC —The new organ—and now the only recognized organ in New York—of the Republican party has reached us It is an eight page daily considerably smaller than the Times presenting a fair appearance typographically It is impossible from this first number to form a definite opinion as to what it will amount to First numbers of newspapers seldom amount to anything and this first number is not exceptional It is rather flat but when it gets all the avenues of its business open it may show more spirit It is first Republican then a newspaper,

If the Winnemucca Railway be built it will have the effect to secure the building of the West Side road through to Junction The other side being already built the Winnemucca road will inevitably come down the west side unless Holladay's Company rush forward and build that section themselves so as to hold the key to the situation

BOY SHOT.—Particulars of [illegible] which occurred at or near St. Johns [illegible] Saturday evening, have just been [illegible]. The parties directly concerned in [illegible] Johns and a son of Chris. [illegible] about 15 years It seems that Mr. Johns, who is the proprietor of a large orchard and vineyard, had been of late missing considerable fruit, particularly grapes About 8 o'clock on Saturday evening hearing a noise down in the orchard Mr Johns suspected that it might proceed from persons stealing fruit. He had been greatly annoyed by these intruders, and he determined to teach them a salutary lesson, and if possible scare them off for good. Arming himself with a small revolver, Mr Johns sallied forth It was quite dark and he thought he could discern an object but a few yards distant from him He was correct in his surmises, for it proved to be the thieves. They heard him coming and made off. Johns heard the bushes rattling and called out to the intruders to stop. No answer was received, and Johns discharged his revolver in the direction of the noise. The shot was fired at random, more for the purpose of scaring the persons than for any other object The ball took effect in the right thigh of young Loomis who was one of the thieves. No bones were fractured, the ball passing through the fleshy portion of the limb, inflicting an ugly wound On ascertaining the result of the shot Mr Johns felt very sorry and regretted his hasty action in the matter. Much indignation was felt by a number of persons in and about St. Johns, when they learned of the affair and several who were personal enemies of Mr Johns, made threats of violence. Finding that he was menaced, he [illegible] a boat on Sunday morning and [illegible] city with the intention of [illegible] self to the Police authorities. [illegible] by several and perceiving that [illegible] to overtake him, he landed [illegible] to the city Arriving here, [illegible] Mr Johns related the circumstances to the officers and surrendered himself [illegible] custody He was placed in jail and an examination will take place [illegible]. Mr. Johns has the reputation of being a [illegible] peaceable citizen

PASSENGERS COMING.—Saturday afternoon the steamship Oriflamme sailed from San Francisco for Portland She brings the following passengers Dr J H Barthoff, U S A, [illegible] wife Miss Flora J [illegible], Miss Mary [illegible], Miss Maggie Hustler, Miss A. [illegible], J. Hamilton H C Jones, J. Leadbetter, G H. Bloomfield J Bilkey, D W. [illegible] and wife, Mrs. T Cooper and child, G W [illegible], wife and son, J P McFerron and family.

OLD APPLE TREES.—Mr Seldon Murray, one of the oldest and most successful farmers in the county, has placed us under obligations for a basket of splendid apples. These apples embrace the varieties of winesap, Spitzenberg, bellflower and Baldwin In [illegible] the fruit is equal to any which [illegible] of the varieties. Mr. Murray came to Oregon in 1851 and the same year settled on [illegible] (on the east side of the river [illegible] of James B Stephens) where he is now living. The trees which bore the apples that were placed on our table, were planted [illegible] years ago by Mr Murray's own hands. For a number of years the trees were entirely neglected, being neither cultivated or pruned. During the period of neglect, the trees bore little or no fruit, and that of an inferior grade. [illegible] Mr Murray trimmed the trees [illegible] and as a result they bore a full crop which will compare favorably with any they have ever produced

DEATH OF A STRANGER.—Last July, a young man named Orville E. Stone, arrived here from the East He was in an invalid condition having been afflicted for several years with pulmonary complaint, and was induced to seek a change of climate, in the hope of restoration to good health, However, the hoped for change did not come. The young man lingered along and died on Wednesday last He was a total stranger in the country, having only an uncle—Mr [illegible] in the State A short time previous to his death, it was ascertained that Mr. Stone was a member in good standing of the Order of Odd Fellows and belonged to a Lodge in Canada. Immediately after his death, the remains were taken in charge by the [illegible] Committee of that Order in this city. On Friday the body was buried with the customary [illegible]. Deceased was 26 years of age. His parents reside in Toronto, Canada

FROM STICKINE.—Mr Newport, who, it will be remembered, so cleverly personated the role of "Tom Flynn" in the "Color Guard," which was produced at the Oro Fino Theater last Spring has just returned from the Stickine mines He went to these mines sometime in last April and has been living constantly in those alleged auriferous regions until he started home a few weeks ago. Mr N has not succeeded in amassing a colossal fortune, but he has acquired a considerable amount of roughing experience in those wilds, as his sunbrowned appearance would indicate. His old friends will be glad to see him.

FRATERNAL VISIT.—The Vancouver Register says It is rumored [illegible] the Masonic Fraternity of Vancouver are going to pay a fraternal visit to the Masonic Fraternity of Portland on Monday evening, [illegible] inst The steamer Vancouver has been chartered for the occasion and the [illegible] will leave Vancouver at 6 P M., returning same night A band of music will be in attendance and a good time is anticipated.

ENTERED ON HIS DUTIES.—A letter from Fort Wrangel to the Victoria Colonist under date of October 7th says that John A. Carr, Collector of Customs at that port was arrested by soldiers charged with frauds in the discharge of his official duties The same letter states that ex Governor Daniels, of Idaho, entered on his duties as Deputy Collector of Customs of this port to-day, in place of John A. Carr, removed

SERIOUS ILLNESS.—We regret to state that Mr Frank Stott brother of Hon R. Stott, one of the Representatives from Multnomah, is lying seriously ill at his father's residence in Washington county Mr Stott was quite ill a few weeks ago with the typhoid fever He recovered from that disease in a measure, but exposing himself took a severe relapse. Strong hopes are entertained of his recovery

FULLY ATONED FOR.—As if to atone for the blunder of a collision of street cars on Friday night the Street Car Company Saturday evening on the arrival of the train from the South, sent five cars over the line as close together as one could follow another and got them all back here without a collision or accident of any kind We leave our readers to figure out how the feat was performed.

AT MUSEUM HALL.—Mr Wood of the Oregon Museum having completed all arrangements for the inauguration of a course of lectures at his hall the first one will be delivered on the evening of the 22d inst A large number of the tickets we understand, have been disposed of During the course lectures will be delivered by a number of talented gentlemen

LOCAL BREVITIES.

"Dot" to-morrow evening.

Last week of the Legislature.

No news in shipping to report.

The ball season will soon be inaugurated.

Count Court will convene on Wednesday.

Common Council on Wednesday evening.

Music at the Market last Saturday evening.

No more dust in all probability until next summer.

Still running cableless the Stark street ferryboat.

Schooner Oregonian will be due here from San Francisco in a few days.

State Fair is over, and everybody is glad of it and anxious to return home.

Exempt Firemen's Association will meet at the Police Court rooms on Thursday.

The freight train on Saturday evening consisted of 2[illegible] cars, all loaded with wheat.

The brick work on the new engine house for Multnomah Co No 2, will shortly be finished.

Ice cream, lemonade and arctic soda are no longer eagerly sought after by thirsty pedestrians.

The condition of the Nicholson pavement along Front and First streets is such as to require repairs.

There are strong indications of rain. The State Fair has just closed in time to avoid the threatened webfoot mist.

Look sharp! The Fair is over, and all the thieves will be upon us. Lock your doors and fasten down your windows.

The Emmet Guard will hold their annual target excursion on the 22d inst. Full particulars will be published in time.

Workmen will soon commence to put up the iron fence which will surmount the stone wall around the new Custom House.

It is the expectation of the superintendent to have the new Custom House completed and ready for occupation about the first of January.

Fair being ended, the circus and sideshows have folded up their tents and vanished. The circus is moving southward, and will travel overland to California.

In a few days the excavation at the corner of Yamhill and Fourth streets, for the bell tower corporation shed, etc., will be completed, and the foundation will follow.

One of the locomotives on the O & C R R, was ditched on Saturday. She was righted without difficulty and brought down to the car shops on Sunday morning.

An open air meeting was held yesterday at the corner of Stark and First streets. It was very largely attended and profitable and interesting religious services were held.

Judging from the frequent expressions of disapprobation which we hear the public are not any too well pleased with the new railroad schedule—no mail nor passenger trains on Sunday.

THE STAGE.

After a very successful week's performance the Fulford Rosedale troupe returned from the Fair on Saturday.

Mus er J W McKenzie, the young tenor who visited Portland with Vivian, is now on his way to New York. From there he will go to London to study.

Maurice Greenwall, who came here as manager of the California Minstrels was the recipient of a complimentary benefit at the Opera House, San Francisco, last Friday evening.

Madame Phelps and her company will return from Salem to-day. We are gratified to announce that the performances given at Reed's Opera House during Fair week proved financially successful even beyond the most sanguine anticipations of the Managers. Crowded Houses were present every night and on Friday evening the theater was insufficient to accommodate the audience. The result of the week's season is a golden harvest to the management. No performance will be given at Oro Fino Theater this evening. To-morrow evening it is the intention to produce "Dot" or "The Cricket on the Hearth" with the full strength of the Company. It will be a source of gratification to the public to learn that Mrs Stone, the pleasing and versatile artist, has been re engaged by Mrs Phelps for five nights. She will appear every night during the present week, and also at matinee. During the present week a series of attractive plays will be produced in rapid succession. On the steamer following the next, Amy Stone and husband purpose taking their departure for Australia via San Francisco.

Military Inspection.—Colonel Roger Jones U S A., Inspector-General of the Department of the Columbia arrived in Vancouver on the 13th inst and proceeded to inspect the post and garrison. The result of the inspection is not yet known.

A stone Indian and stone image that were dug up from a point twenty feet under ground may be seen in the Museum.

The fall season has fairly set in and with it our merchants are opening their new stocks in large quantities. Among those who have prepared for the rush we find those well known clothiers Beck & Waldman, who are not behind any in their selections of fall and winter goods. They have studied the present wants of customers and accordingly have purchased at the lowest figure with the object of affording their patrons the greatest advantages. Boys' clothing is a specialty with this house, and parents should note the fact.

Don't pay high prices for Hats while they can be obtained at a reasonable figure. Among the latest additions to the stock of JOHN O'NEIL & Co Clothiers is a complete line of Hats for the fall and winter season. They propose to sell them cheaper than the same have been offered heretofore in this city. When you need a new tile bear this in mind. The high scale of prices are played out, and O'NEIL & Co can prove it. They are opening some new styles in Hats and Clothing. Make a note of it before it is too late.

New Attractions.—Very few are acquainted with the fact that JOS KOHN opposite the First National Bank has just opened a magnificent assortment of Clothing and Furnishing Goods. None can but admire the handsome Diagonal, the beautiful Beaver Suits, the attractive Cassimeres and other goods now displayed at his large and elegant store. He as well as his clerks are accommodating and will gratify the tastes of all who may chance to call. Mr Kohn can please you that is morally certain. Now is the time to purchase a fall suit.

The celebrated Dithridge Lamp Chimneys, now being advertised, have been imported by us and furnished to our customers for the last two years.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

There will be a meeting this Monday evening at 8 o'clock of the Arcadian Club at their parlors. Important business is on the tapis and a full attendance is desired.

A large number of people were present at the game of base ball on Saturday between the Arcadians, of this city, and the College club of Salem. The game was called at about 1 o'clock by Mr Barker Umpire. The game progressed very quietly and closely, the Arcadians gaining a little after the 4th inning, and standing 4 runs ahead of their opponents at the end of the 8th inning. Some very good playing was done throughout the course of the game as the score shows. On the 9th inning the College boys went to the bat with a determination to win if carefulness and downright hard work would do it. Coleman and Rickey each made a tally, Carroll and McCully went out but Gesner and Garrison each got in a run. Williams went to the bat and got his first base while Matheny took the willow and sent the ball to the right near the foul line.

A SCENE

Followed which it is impossible to describe. When Matheny struck the ball this time the score stood even, the College club having one man on the bases and two men out while the Arcadians had one more turn at the bat to complete the game. Of course the College club and their friends were anxious that Williams and Matheny should add two runs to their side of the score, and they began to urge the players to run by shouting "Now go! lay down to it. Get out of that," etc besides cheering them on with all their voices, so that it was impossible to hear what was said by the Umpire. Williams and Matheny both run the bases and came home about the time the ball was got in by Hart who asked for judgment and the Umpire decided that the ball was foul, and that the side was out. The College Club denied that the ball was foul, or had been so called by the Umpire. Loud talk and some language of a very forcible character was indulged in all round but Mr Barker very properly stood by his own judgment, and the Arcadians rested their cause on his decision. The College Club refused to play the last half of the inning unless the Umpire should reverse his decision and call it fair. So, then, in the middle of the ninth inning the game ended. The score at the close of the eighth inning stood as follows, the Arcadians claiming the game by four runs, that being the last full inning played:

ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY OFFERED

For the relief of the afflicted.

The Surgeons of the NATIONAL SURGICAL INSTITUTE will visit the Pacific Coast on the 15th day of November and remain until the 15th day of December 1874—one month—at their old building No 319 Bush street between Kearny and Montgomery, San Francisco.

This is a chance for help which every sufferer should take advantage of. The hundreds of patients treated by them during their former visits are all rapidly being benefitted and cured. They treat successfully all cases of Paralysis, all deformities of the Face, Spine and Limbs, Diseased Joints, Diseased Eyes and Ears, Catarrh, Private Diseases, Diseases of Females, Piles, Fistula etc. No hopeless cases are undertaken and it really does seem as if no cases are hopeless in the hands of those skillful surgeons.

They are preparing all the machinery necessary for the Swedish Movement Cure, Medicated Baths, Machinery to equalize the circulation, restore Paralyzed Limbs, etc. and a much finer outfit of braces and appliances than heretofore. All who commence treatment during this visit and the many hundreds now under treatment will have the advantages of all these most effectual means of cure besides some of the surgeons will this time remain to continue their treatment.

Remember the time and place and come as early in the month as possible, thus getting the full benefit of their visit.

I DESIRE TO FURNISH MY TESTIMONY in behalf of Dr Jayne's excellent medicine, the Expectorant. I have been troubled with Asthma for over two years and it became so bad last fall and winter that I could not walk over twenty rods without sitting down to rest, neither could I perform work of any kind. If I chopped wood briskly for five minutes I would fall down for want of breath, so firmly had the disease taken hold of me. Finally I was persuaded to try the Expectorant and procuring a bottle from Messrs Hawley & Fulhill of this place, I commenced using it. After taking in all four bottles I am now able to do as much work in a day as any man in my neighborhood, and my complaint has entirely left me. Therefore I cordially recommend this Expectorant to any one troubled with Asthma.—HORACE SHEPHERD, Fitchburg, Mich.

MORTALITY PREVENTED

It would be a moderate estimate to place the number of cases in which Consumption is prevented by the timely use of HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR at ten thousand per annum. No cough, cold, bronchial affection, sore throat or other ailment of the organs of respiration can ever degenerate into a mortal disease, if this palatable and absolutely infallible specific be taken in time and long enough persevered in.

PIKE'S TOOTH ACHE DROPS—Cure in one minute.

Trumpery Tonics.

Moderation in the use of stimulants, like the avoidance of all excesses is unquestionably praiseworthy, and life prolonging. All sensible persons admit this. But the vendors of non alcoholic slops desirous of undermining the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in order to sell their own worthless trash have thought fit to go to the length of denouncing as baneful in the extreme all invigorants containing spirits. Now the very reverse of this is the case, the fact being that no vegetable bitters entirely devoid of alcohol are worth a rush, that being the one ingredient which prevents the decomposition and souring of the others. Probably no one knows better than you, Messieurs the Trumpery Tonic Vendors, that the perfectly pure liquor used to dissolve the botanic constituents of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the very best medium that could have been selected to facilitate and confirm the invigorating, protective and remedial action of the great stomachic.

OF

NEW GOODS,

At the Store of

BRADLEY, MARSH & CO.,

Extensive Shipments to Arrive

Ex "JOHN L. STEPHENS" AND "AJAX."

THE FOLLOWING LETTER, FROM MR. MARSH, who is now purchasing in the San Francisco market, will explain itself:

GRAND HOTEL, 7th October, 1874

DEAR BRADLEY: Arrived safely having had fair average passage. Set at once to work. First called on ——. Paid them $2,500 on account. Got 3 per cent discount on $1,150 not yet due. Mr —— seemed well pleased, said they had heard rather unfavorable accounts of us from Portland merchants—going ahead too fast, selling goods too low, ruined the trade etc. Explained the evident animus of such statements. Wanted to call round on the other houses before buying but Mr —— would not let me stir—so started in and bought a splendid lot of stuff at really extraordinary low prices. Cleared out 63 pieces of English waterproof and ladies cloth at 6c—regular price $1 20. These we must sell at $1 per yard and beat the wholesale houses they can't touch them at that figure. There is a temporary decline in cotton goods, so secured 15 cases leading brands muslins and sheetings. Selling these as usual, at cost will give us a splendid advantage over all the other stores. Got a fine lot Bed spreads 30 per cent under regular price. In Blankets I made a special hit. The house had 12 bales on consignment and being agents for the —— mills did not wish to exhibit them in competition. Bought the lot. You may think this rather stiff but when you see the splendid quality of these goods you will at once concede this a magnificent purchase. Mark them low, and make a noise. Do not let the country storekeepers gobble all these up as they did the last cheap lot; keep them for our regular customers. Got two job lines in Dress Goods to sell at 25@37½c per yard—30 per cent less than cost of importing. Secured two original cases of the Buffalo brand silk warp Alpacas at agent's rates. These range in price from 25c to $1. The time is past with us for buying a piece or two. Cleared out several job lines in Flannels, Table Linen, Napkins, Towels etc all very low. Also several other goods that can best be purchased at this house. Dined and wined with Mr ——. Splendid house magnificently furnished. Met ——.

Tuesday—Called early on ——. Paid our account in full. Same story as to reports. The fact is, the —— evidently want for us" in very blackness of heart, but our name is a tower of strength that the shot of accident nor dart of chance can neither graze nor pierce. The robbed that smiles steals something from the thief and we can well smile at these attempts to jostle a brother bearing his road on the rough road of life. The heavy cash remittances we make regularly stun them all here. They say the Portland men are generally long winded. Our getting the Granger trade is also a surprise to many. Purchased a fine lot of Shawls, Hosiery, Men's Shirts, Pants, Ladies Merino Vests, Woolen Jackets, Trimmings, and all fancy goods at this house. They were most anxious to sell, and as they made considerable reductions in prices, I bought largely. Send you invoices overland. Goods go by John L Stephens. The shipment from England will arrive by next Panama steamer. The Clothing, Hats, etc from New York come by rail. When all these are opened out our stock will be the finest on the coast. Will back us up to any extent. He knows we possess the powers ordained to last. His business has doubled this year. This is truly a Golden State with its golden mines, golden grain and the golden wealth of living manhood and womanhood pouring in at the rate of three hundred daily from all parts of the civilized and uncivilized world. Would that we had railroads to enable us to share this prosperity.

CITY.

Shot.—Particulars of a shooting affair which occurred at or near St. John's, on Saturday evening, have just been received. The parties directly concerned in the affair are Jas Johns and a son of Chris Loomis, aged about 15 years It seems that Mr Johns, who is the proprietor of a large orchard and vineyard has been of late missing considerable fruit particularly grapes About 8 o clock on Saturday evening hearing a noise down in the [illegible] Mr Johns suspected that it might [illegible] from persons stealing fruit He had been greatly annoyed by these intruders and had determined to teach them a salutary lesson and if possible scare them off for good Arming himself with a small revolver Mr Johns sallied forth It was quite dark and he could [illegible] an object but a few yards distant from [illegible] He was correct in his surmises, for it [illegible] to be the thieves. They heard him [illegible]g and made off. Johns heard the bushes [illegible] and called out to the intruders to stop No answer was received and Johns discharged [his] revolver in the direction of the noise The shot was fired at random, more for the purpose of scaring the persons than for any other object. The ball took effect in the right thigh of young Loomis who was one of the thieves No bones were fractured the ball passing through the fleshy portion of the limb inflicting an ugly wound On ascertaining the result of the shot Mr Johns felt very sorry and [illegible] his hasty action in the matter Great indignation was felt by a number of persons in and about St. Johns when they learned of the affair and several who were personal enemies of Mr Johns, made threats of violence Finding that he was menaced he obtained a boat on Sunday morning and started for this city with the intention of surrendering himself to the Police authorities He was followed by [illegible], and perceiving that they were likely to overtake him, he landed and started to walk to the city Arriving here in the afternoon he related the circumstances to the [illegible] and surrendered himself into their [illegible] He was placed in jail and an examination will take place this morning Mr Johns has the reputation of being a quiet citizen

[illegible] Coming.—Saturday forenoon the [illegible] Oriflamme sailed from San Francisco for Portland She brings the following passengers: Dr J H Bartholf U S A, and wife, Miss Flora J Hare, Miss Mary Hustler Miss Maggie Hustler, Miss A Jenst, Mrs J Hamilton H C Jones J Leadbeater G H [illegible]field J Bilkey, D W Jones and family [illegible] Davis and wife, J Kiethly and family [illegible] Hegele, W Harris, N Gear George [illegible] and family, L F Nekon and wife O A [illegible] Miss E Miller Mrs R Kindred and [illegible] C Keiser and wife, J Sigsworth and [illegible] Mrs. R. Old Apple Trees.—Mr Seldon Murray one of the oldest and most successful farmers in the county, has placed us under obligations for a basket of splendid apples These apples are the varieties of winesap Spitzenberg, [illegible]r and Baldwin In size and flavor the fruit is equal to any which we have seen [illegible] varieties. Mr Murray came to Oregon [illegible], and the same year settled on the farm [on the] east side of the river adjoining the farm [illegible] B Stephens) where he is now living [illegible] which bore the apples that were [placed] on our table, were planted 22 years ago [by] Murray's own hands. For a number [of years] the trees were entirely neglected, being [neither] cultivated or pruned During the [time of] neglect, the trees bore little or no [fruit and] that of an inferior grade. Last year [he] trimmed the trees down very close, [and] they bore a full crop which will [compare] favorably with any they have ever [borne]

[illegible] of a Stranger.—Last July a young [illegible] Orville E Stone arrived here [illegible] He was in an invalid condition [and had] been afflicted for several years [with a] very complaint and was induced [to seek] a change of climate, in the hope of [regaining] good health However, the [desired] change did not come The young [man lingered] along and died on Wednesday [illegible] He was a total stranger in the country [having] only an uncle—Mr Moses Ames—in [illegible] A short time previous to his death [illegible] that Mr Stone was a member in good standing of the Order of Odd Fellows belonging to a Lodge in Canada. Immediately after his death the remains were taken in charge by the General Relief Committee of the Order in this city. On Friday [he] was buried with the customary rites [He] was 26 years of age His parents reside in Canada

Stickine.—Mr Newport, who, it will be remembered, so cleverly personated the [illegible] "Tom Flynn," in the "Color Guard" [when] produced at the Oro Fino Theater [illegible] has just returned from the Stickeen [illegible] He went to these mines sometime in [illegible] and has been living constantly in [these] auriferous regions until the star ed [illegible] weeks ago Mr N has not amassed a colossal fortune but he [has made a] considerable amount of rough [illegible] in those wilds as his embonpoint would indicate His old [friends] will be glad to see him

Fraternal Visit.—The Vancouver Register says: "It is announced that the [illegible] of Vancouver are going to [pay a] fraternal visit to the Masonic Fraternity [of] Portland on Monday evening, October 26th. The steamer Vancouver has been chartered for the [illegible], and the excursionists will leave Vancouver at 6 P M, returning same night A band of music will be in attendance and a good time is anticipated."

[illegible] on and Duty.—A letter from Fort Wrangel to the Victoria [illegible] under date of October 7th, says that John A. Carr, Collector of Customs at that port [illegible] arrested by soldiers charged with frauds in the discharge of his official duties. The letter states that ex-Governor Daniels, of Idaho, entered on his duties as Deputy Collector of Customs of this port to-day, in place of John A Carr, removed

Serious Illness.—We regret to state that Mr Frank Stott brother of Hon R Stott one of the Representatives from Multnomah is lying very ill at his father's residence in [illegible] Mr Stott was quite ill some weeks ago with the typhoid fever He recovered from that disease in a measure but [exposing] himself took a severe relapse Strong hopes are entertained of his recovery

Fully Atoned For.—As if to atone for the [illegible] of a collision of street cars on Friday the Street Car Company Saturday evening [on the] arrival of the train from the South [ran a car] over the line as close together as [one could] follow another and got them all [through] without a collision or accident of [any kind]. We leave our readers to figure [how] the feat was performed

[illegible] Hall.—Mr Wool of the Oregon [illegible] having completed all arrangements for the inauguration of a course of [lectures at] his hall, the first one will be delivered on the evening of the 22d inst. A large [number] of the tickets we understand have [been dispos]ed of During the course lectures will be delivered by a number of talented gentlemen

[illegible] Rev R Bentley began [illegible] at the Taylor Street M E Church yesterday. He preached twice to a very large audience each time. His manner is very practical, his style plain but forcible and attractive. We predict that he will do a good work and sustain the reputation of that pulpit as one of the leading ones of the city

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Dot" to-morrow evening.

Last week of the Legislature

No news in shipping to report

The ball season will soon be inaugurated

Count Court will convene on Wednesday

Common Council on Wednesday evening

Music at the Market last Saturday evening

No more dust, in all probability until next summer

Still running cableless—the Stark street ferryboat

Schooner Oregonian will be due here from San Francisco in a few days

State Fair is over, and everybody is glad of it and anxious to return home

Exempt Firemen's Association will meet at the Police Court rooms on Thursday

The freight train on Saturday evening consisted of 21 cars, all loaded with wheat

The brick work on the new engine house for Multnomah Co No 2 will shortly be finished

Ice cream lemonade and arctic soda are no longer eagerly sought after by thirsty pedestrians

The condition of the Nicholson pavement along Front and First streets is such as to require repairs

There are strong indications of rain The State Fair has just closed in time to avoid the threatened webfoot mist

Look sharp! The Fair is over and all the thieves will be upon us Lock your doors and fasten down your windows.

The Emmet Guard will hold their annual target excursion on the 22d inst Full particulars will be published in time

Workmen will soon commence to put up the iron fence which will surround the stone wall around the new Custom House

It is the expectation of the superintendent to have the new Custom House completed and ready for occupation about the first of January

Fair being ended the circus and sideshows have folded up their tents and vanished The circus is moving southward, and will travel overland to California

In a few days the excavation at the corner of Yamhill and Fourth streets for the bell tower corporation shed, etc, will be completed and the foundation will follow

One of the locomotives on the O & C R R was ditched on Saturday She was righted without difficulty and brought down to the car shops on Sunday morning

An open air meeting was held yesterday at the corner of Stark and First streets It was very largely attended and profitable and interesting religious services were held

Judging from the frequent expressions of disapprobation which we hear the public are not any too well pleased with the new rail road schedule—no mail nor passenger trains on Sunday

THE STAGE.

After a very successful week's performance the Fulford Rosedale troup returned from the Fair on Saturday

Mnser J W McKenzie, the young tenor who visited Portland with Vivian, is now on his way to New York From there he will go to London to study

Maurice Greenwall who came here as manager of the California Minstrels was the recipient of a complimentary benefit at the Opera House, San Francisco, last Friday evening

Madame Phelps and her company will return from Salem to day We are gratified to announce that the performances given at Reed's Opera House during Fair week proved financially successful, even beyond the most sanguine anticipations of the Manageress Crowded houses were present every night and on Friday evening the theater was insufficient to accommodate the audience The result of the week's season is a golden harvest to the management. No performance will be given at Oro Fino Theater this evening To-morrow evening it is the intention to produce "Dot" or "The Cricket on the Hearth" with the full strength of the Company It will be a source of gratification to the public to learn that Mrs Stone the pleasing and versatile artist, has been re engaged by Mrs Phelps for five nights She will appear every night during the present week, and also at matinee During the present week a series of attractive plays will be produced in rapid succession On the steamer following the next Amy Stone and husband purpose taking their departure for Australia via San Francisco

MILITARY INSPECTION.—Colonel Roger Jones U S A, Inspector-General of the Department of the Columbia, arrived in Vancouver on the 13th inst and proceeded to inspect the post and garrison The result of the inspection is not yet known

A stone Indian and stone image that were dug up from a point twenty feet under ground may be seen in the Museum.

The full season has fairly set in and with it our merchants are opening their new stocks in large quantities. Among those who have prepared for the rush we find those well known clothiers Beck & Waldman, who are not behind any in their selections of fall and winter goods They have studied the present wants of customers and accordingly, have purchased at the lowest figure with the object of affording their patrons the greatest advantage Boys' clothing is a specialty with this house, and parents should note the fact

Don't pay high prices for Hats while they can be obtained at a reasonable figure Among the latest additions to the stock of JOHN O'NEIL & Co. Clothiers is a complete line of Hats for the fall and winter season They propose to sell them cheaper than the same have been offered heretofore in this city When you need a new hat bear this in mind The highest of prices are played out and O'NEIL & Co can prove it. They are opening some new styles in Hats and Clothing, make a note of it before it is too late

NEW ATTRACTIONS.—We take pleasure in acquainting the public with the fact that JOS KOHN opposite the First National Bank has just opened a magnificent assortment of Clothing and Furnishing Goods, among which are the handsome Diagonal, the beautiful Beaver, the Chinchilla, and other goods displayed at his large and elegant store He as well as his clerks are accommodating and will gratify the tastes of all who may chance to call. Mr Kohn can please you, that's certain. Now is the time to purchase a full suit.

The celebrated DITHRIDGE LAMP CHIMNEYS, now being advertised, have been imported by us and furnished to city customers for the last two years

W JACKSON & CO

That universal tobacco the best brands of Havana and domestic cigars meerschaum pipes tubes etc are the articles Jim next to Walter Bros can supply you with.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

There will be a meeting this (Monday) evening at 8 o'clock of the Arcadian Club at their parlors Important business is on the tapis and a full attendance is desired.

A large number of people were present at the game of base ball on Saturday between the Arcadians, of this city, and the College club of Salem The game was called at about 1 o'clock by Mr Harker Umpire The game progressed very quietly and closely, the Arcadians gaining a little after the 4th inning, and standing 4 runs ahead of their opponents at the end of the 8th inning Some very good playing was done throughout the course of the game as the score shows On the 9th inning the College boys went to the bat with a determination to win if carefulness and downright hard work would do it Coleman and Rickey each made a tally Carroll and McCully went out but Gessner and Garrison each got in a run Williams went to the bat and got his first base while Matheny took the willow and sent the ball to the right near the foul line

followed which it is impossible to describe When Matheny struck the ball this time the score stood even the College club having one man on the bases and two men out while the Arcadians had one more turn at the bat to complete the game Of course the College club and their friends were anxious that Williams and Matheny should add two runs to their side of the score and they began to urge the players to run by shouting "Now go Lay down to it" "Get out of that" etc besides cheering them on with all their voices so that it was impossible to hear what was said by the Umpire Williams and Matheny both run the bases and came home about the time the ball was got in by Hart who asked for judgment and the Umpire decided that the ball was foul and that the side was out The College Club denied that the ball was foul, or had been so called by the Umpire Loud talk and some language of a very forcible character was indulged in all round but Mr Harker very properly stood by his own judgment, and the Arcadians rested their cause on his decision The College Club refused to play the last half of the inning unless the Umpire should reverse his decision and call it fair So then in the middle of the ninth inning, the game ended The score at the close of the eighth inning stood as follows the Arcadians claiming the game by four runs, that being the last full inning played

ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY OFFERED

For the relief of the afflicted.

The Surgeons of the NATIONAL SURGICAL INSTITUTE will visit the Pacific Coast on the 15th day of November, and remain until the 15th day of December 1874—one month—at their old building No 319 Bush street between Kearny and Montgomery, San Francisco

This is a chance for help which every sufferer should take advantage of The hundreds of patients treated by them during their former visits are all rapidly being benefited and cured They treat successfully all cases of Paralysis all deformities of the Face Spine and Limbs Diseased Joints Diseased Eyes and Ears Catarrh Private Diseases Diseases of Females Piles, Fistula etc No hopeless cases are undertaken and it really does seem as if no cases are hopeless in the hands of these skillful surgeons.

They are preparing all the machinery necessary for the Swedish Movement Cure, Medicated Baths Machinery to equalize the circulation restore Paralyzed Limbs etc. and a much finer outfit of braces and appliances than heretofore. All who commence treatment during this visit and the many hundreds now under treatment will have the advantages of all these most effectual means of cure besides some of the surgeons will this time remain to continue their treatment

Remember the time and place and come as early in the month as possible thus getting the full benefit of their visit

I DESIRE TO FURNISH MY TESTIMONY in behalf of Dr Jayne's excellent medicine the Expectorant I have been troubled with Asthma for over two years and it became so bad last fall and winter that I could not walk over twenty rods without sitting down to rest neither could I perform work of any kind If I chopped wood briskly five minutes I would fall down for want of breath so firmly had the disease taken hold of me Finally I was persuaded to try the Expectorant and procuring a bottle from Messrs Hawley & Eddell of this place I commenced using it After taking in all four bottles I am now able to do as much work in a day as any man in my neighborhood and my complaint has entirely left me Therefore I cordially recommend this Expectorant to any one troubled with Asthma.—HORACE SMEDLEY Fitchburg Mich.

MORTALITY PREVENTED

It would be a moderate estimate to place the number of cases in which Consumption is prevented by the timely use of HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR at ten thousand per annum No cough cold bronchial affection sore throat or other ailment of the organs of respiration can ever degenerate into a mortal disease If this palatable and absolutely infallible specific be taken in time and long enough persevered in

PIKE'S TOOTH ACHE DROPS—Cure in one minute

Trumpery Tonics.

Moderation in the use of stimulants like the avoidance of all excesses is unquestionably praiseworthy and life-prolonging All sensible persons admit this. But the vendors of non alcoholic slops desirous of undermining the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in order to sell their own worthless trash have thought fit to go to the length of denouncing as baneful in the extreme all invigorants containing spirits Now the very reverse of this is the case the fact being that no vegetable bitters entirely devoid of alcohol are worth a rush that being the one ingredient which prevents the decomposition and souring of the others. Probably no one knows better than you Messieurs the Trumpery Tonic Vendors that the perfectly pure liquor used to dissolve the botanic constituents of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the very best medium that could have been selected to facilitate and confirm the invigorating protective and remedial action of the great stomachic

OF

NEW GOODS,

At the Store of

BRADLEY, MARSH & CO.,

Extensive Shipments to Arrive

Ex "JOHN L. STEPHENS" AND "AJAX."

THE FOLLOWING LETTER, FROM MR MARSH, who is now purchasing in the San Francisco market, will explain itself

GRAND HOTEL, 7th October 1874

DEAR BRADLEY Arrived safely having had fair average passage Set at once to work. First called on —— Paid them $2,500 on account. Got 3 per cent discount on $1 150 not yet due. Mr —— seemed well pleased, said they had heard rather unfavorable accounts of us from Portland merchants going ahead too fast selling goods too low ruined the trade etc. Explained the evident animus of such statements Wanted to call round on the other houses before buying but Mr —— would not let me stir—so started in and bought a splendid lot of stuff at really extraordinary low prices Cleared out 63 pieces of English waterproof and ladies cloth at 90c—regular price $1 20 These we must sell at $1 per yard and beat the wholesale houses they can't touch them at that figure. There is a temporary decline in cotton goods so secured 16 cases leading brands muslins and sheetings. Selling these as usual at cost will give us a splendid advantage over all the other stores. Got a fine lot bed spreads 30 per cent under regular price. In Blankets I made a special hit The house had 12 bales on consignment, and being agents for the —— mills did not wish to exhibit them in competition Bought the lot You may think this rather stiff but when you see the splendid quality of these goods you will at once concede this a magnificent purchase Mark them low and make a noise Do not let the country storekeepers gobble all these up as they did the last cheap lot keep them for our regular customers Got two job lines in Dress Goods to sell at 25@37½c per yard—30 per cent less than cost of importing Secured two original cases of the Buffalo brand silk warp Alpacas at agent's rates These range in price from 25c to $1 The time is past with us for buying a piece or two Cleared out several job lines in Flannels Table Linen Napkins, Towels etc all very low Also several other goods, that can best be purchased at this house Dined and wined with Mr —— Splendid house magnificently furnished Met ——

Tuesday—Called early on —— Paid our account in full Same story as to reports The fact is the —— evidently "went for us" in very blackness of heart, but our name is a tower of strength that the shot of accident nor dart of chance can neither graze nor pierce The robbed that smiles steals something from the thief and we can well smile at these attempts to jostle a brother bearing his road on the rough road of life The heavy cash remittances we make regularly stun them all here They say the Portland men are generally long winded Our getting the Granger trade is also a surprise to many Purchased a fine lot of Shawls, Hosiery Men's Shirts Pants Ladies Merino Vests, Woolen Jackets Trimmings, and all fancy goods at this house They were most anxious to sell, and as they made considerable reductions in prices, I bought largely Send you invoices overland Goods go by John L Stephens. The shipment from England will arrive by next Panama steamer The Clothing Hat, etc. from New York come by rail When all these are opened out our stock will be the finest on the coast Will back us up to any extent. He knows we possess the powers ordained to last. His business has doubled this year This is truly a Golden State with its golden mines golden grain and the golden wealth of living manhood and womanhood pouring in at the rate of three hundred daily from all parts of the civilized and uncivilized world Wish that we had no roads to enable us to share this prosperity

HOW HIS DEATH WAS RECEIVED IN PARIS—SKETCH OF HIS LIFE AND CHARACTER—HIS MARRIAGE WITH PAULINE DE MEULAN—HIS SUBSEQUENT CAREER

(N. Y. Times Correspondent.)

PARIS, Monday, Sept. 14, 1874.

Although we have long been expecting the event, the news of M. Guizot's death fell suddenly and painfully upon us. It was looked for, yet it took us by surprise. And death always takes us by surprise, though foreseen, predicted, awaited, longed for even, as a solace to human woes or as the harbinger of eternal peace to world-worn and weary age. M. Guizot had long passed the period when hope grows feeble. If he had survived a few days more he would have entered upon his eighty-eighth year. He was born at Nimes on the 4th of October, 1787, and, as many of his biographers say, he had no youth. In infancy he was plunged into the sufferings and horrors of the revolution, and his earliest lessons were in patient endurance. His father, a distinguished advocate, was guillotined by the sans culottes of Nimes when Guizot was only seven years of age, and his mother had to fly for safety. Being a Protestant family, they naturally looked to the home of Calvin for a refuge. He studied at Geneva, then came to Paris poor and very needy to go through a course of law. Stapfer was then Swiss Minister at Paris, and engaged Guizot as a tutor for his children. It was at this time that he was introduced into the salons of Mme. Suard, the rendezvous of all the literary and artistic men who clung to the ancient Monarchy. It was the foyer of the opposition at that time. It was there that Guizot met Pauline De Meulan, who was popular with all the Royalists, who had the entree to all their salons, who was associated with all their plans, and who, on account of her talent as a writer, was one of the principal mouthpieces of the party. She was then the most esteemed writer upon the Publiciste, edited by Suard. The young man, who was studying law and teaching to live, was thus thrown into a set of people who had [illegible] his ambition and emulation, and though he longed to become one of them in fact, he was yet treated like a poor and distant relative. While patting him on the back none of them seemed inclined to take him by the hand. Suard advised him not to write for the Publiciste, as he would thereby waste his time, and this was surely a polite way of telling Guizot that he had better not ask admission into the sacred circle, as it would in all probability be refused. It is said that he was much chagrined at this check, and with the energy of youth resolved to overcome the difficulties in his way. He formed a plan and proceeded to carry it into execution. Although fourteen years older than himself, Guizot thought that if he could marry Pauline De Meulan she would be able to open all doors for him. In this he was not mistaken. He proposed and was refused, the lady telling him that it was ridiculous in him to marry a woman fourteen years older than [illegible]. Pauline persisted in this resolution, and M. Guizot could no longer go under her protection to the salons of Mme. Suard. He devoted himself with great energy to his studies, living modestly, working many a night upon an empty stomach. During this time misfortunes began to fall upon Pauline De Meulan, and, after being bowed down by family griefs, she found herself obliged to write in order to support herself and her mother. Finally she herself fell ill, and she came near dying at the idea that she could no longer continue her work. With feelings of utter despair she resigned herself to her sick bed. The next morning she received an article in an unknown hand, written in her style, the sender saying that he intended to send others, and to continue until she was well enough to begin again herself. The article was sent to Suard, who found it excellent, and every number of the journal contained the usual amount of matter signed Pauline De Meulan, but written by her unknown correspondent. It was not until perfectly recovered that Guizot avowed himself the writer, and once there he begged the lady's hand in marriage. She consented, and in this way a [illegible] opened [illegible] Guizot. He and his wife were welcome in all the Royalist salons; he was accepted as a collaborator upon the Publiciste, and [illegible] as "the husband of his wife," he soon made a reputation which left Pauline De Meulan's far behind. Before many years she was glad enough to drop the aristocratic name of De Meulan and proud to call herself Mme. Guizot.

Well supported by the family of his wife, or by her aristocratic friends, M. Guizot [illegible] himself forward as a candidate for the Council of State, but failed. Fontanes, however, consoled him by a chair in the Sorbonne. For his benefit the chair of history was cut in two, and he began that series of lectures which culminated in the History of Civilization. The new professor saw that the best way to preserve his popularity with his old friends was to make a mild and safe opposition to Napoleon I. The Empire was on the [illegible], and Guizot did his part toward causing its disappearance. At the return of the Bourbons Royer Collard recommended Guizot to the Minister of the Interior, and the Abbe Montesquiou named him Secretary General of his Cabinet. He there distinguished himself in a singular fashion, considering the fact he began his career as a journalist. He prepared various projects, among them a law upon the press which was used in the ordonnances of July. He was also one of the Committee of Censure with M. Frayssinous, and there treated the press with great severity. In fact, throughout his long career M. Guizot was always an enemy to the press. When Napoleon returned from Elba the name of Guizot was found upon the list of officials who had given in their adhesions, but although this caused great commotion at the time it was found to be an error. It was a brother who had written "yes" upon the register and signed "Guizot," and Francois Guizot, the one who has just died, followed the Bourbons in their flight to Gand. His partisans defended this step by saying that he had gone merely to moderate the ultra royalism of the King and his Court. It was the act of his life which gave him the most trouble. Years later, when reproaching the Legitimists for their visit to the Duc De Bordeaux at Belgrave Square, he was brought to confusion in the Tribune for the only time in his life, by a taunting cry about his visit to Gand.

It is useless to follow the steps of M. Guizot at this late date, and I desire merely to touch a point here and there which may not have been treated in your previous article. During his term of office M. Guizot was bitterly reproached by all Republicans and by most Liberals, for although professing liberalism his name is associated with many tyrannical and illiberal acts. In 1816 he began to publish books, and wrote one on "Representative Government, and the Actual State of France." It was then that the famous term doctrinaires was invented, "so-called," said Royer-Collard, because doctrinaires have no doctrines as poitrinaires have no poitrine (consumptive without lungs). Another said that "doctrinism consisted in affirming liberties in principle which were abjured in practice." It was fine words about bad policy. M. Guizot became famous among the doctrinaires. The fall of the Decazes Ministry, after the assassination of the Duc De Berri, left M. Guizot without a portfolio, and like Thiers and other men of the time he at once joined the opposition. He became as liberal in words as he had been arbitrary when in power, and his course of lectures was interrupted by M. Villemain. It was then that he wrote some of his [illegible] works.

Mme. Guizot died in 1827, while her husband sat by her bedside reading Bossuet's Immortality of the Soul. But she had already set her house in order, and had arranged that Guizot should marry her niece, an English girl named Eliza Dillon. The second Mme. Guizot died in 1833, leaving children, and like the first some literary works of considerable importance. The Martignac Ministry opened the Sorbonne and the Council of State to M. Guizot. This was his best moment of life. He held chairs beside Villemain and Cousin during one of the most remarkable periods in the history of French letters, and his lectures drew crowds to the Sorbonne. "He did very well," said Gustave Planche, "until he came to think himself the director general of the human mind, when he became too arrogant to be endured." The biting critic is perhaps too severe, but it is certain that this little coterie of literary men were the arrogant authors of the ideas put forth to-day about Paris the foyer of civilization, and about the supremacy of French thought throughout the world. It might have been true in their day, and there is a grain of truth about it still; yet Anglo-Saxon thought has not held so small a place in the world as these clever but vain professors would make the world believe. To Cousin is due the terms history of philosophy and philosophy of history, and while Cousin took the former, Guizot took the latter. From them has come the habit of arraying up events in connection with the revealed ideas of the times and of finding that the philosophy of history [illegible]. There is a great deal of pretension in the terms, but the works were excellent. The proof is that they are popular to-day, no one having gone much on Cousin and Guizot in their lives.

Guizot's subsequent political career consisted in a series of ups and downs. In power he was arbitrary, arrogant, austere and tyrannical; out of it he was superbly liberal, a leader of the opposition, and like a true doctrinaire full of those fine phrases about representative government, civil liberty, constitutionalism and parliamentarism which are current to-day. He fought Polignac and voted the address of the 221 Deputies. He overthrew the legitimate monarch and drew up the protest in which the Deputies expressed their respect for the King and his august dynasty. Between 1840 and 1848 he invented the moral complicity theory, to be used against a journalist, threw over the Duchess D'Orleans in favor of the Duc De Nemours, branded the Legitimist Deputies for their visit to Henry V, paid the Pritchard indemnity, risked war in the interest of the Orleans dynasty by marrying the Duc De Montpensier to the Infanta of Spain, insulted the Duchesse De Berri, opposed blindly all extension of the electoral privilege, and the famous adjunction of the capacities. As this leads to a famous mot I must explain in a few words. In the time of Louis Philippe there were in France only about 200,000 voters, and no man could vote who did not pay an annual tax of [illegible] much clear cash. As there were many Judges, lawyers, doctors and members of the liberal professions who could not pay the sum, they were deprived of a vote. As there was no sense in this it was leading to revolution very rapidly, and it was proposed to extend the law by the adjunction of certain capacities, that is to say, that it should count his professional capacities as an offset to so much money paid as a tax, and hence be allowed a vote. From all parts of France professional men sent delegations to Paris to pray for an adjunction of the capacities. M. Guizot received them haughtily, listened to their address with a sneer upon his lip, and only deigned to reply "Enrichissez vous!" Get rich if you want to vote. He obstinately refused to accord this extension of the right of suffrage, though it would have added only about 6,000 to the electoral lists. His speeches at this period were marked by great arrogance, and it was in one of the stormy debates of the time that he cried: "Your insults can never reach the height of my contempt;" or, on another occasion: "You can wear out my strength, but you can never wear out my courage." It was this arrogance that killed Guizot as a public man, for after the revolution of '48 no party desired to take him up. This, I must say, is the bad that we can say of the man, and on the other side of the account we must place a great deal of good. Throughout his life he was an austere puritan, rigid in morals, and stiffly severe in matters of respectability, and he was one of the greatest authors of his time. In previous letters I have spoken of M. Guizot's relations with the Empire, and there is too much passion involved to allow us to treat the subject now. It is certain, however, that he "made it up" with the Emperor at last, and that he was very glad to see his son in office. He was intimate with many distinguished men of the time, and particularly with De Morny. "My dear De Morny," he said one day, "you are the only man capable of overturning the Empire. But you will never be stupid enough to do that."

No day the past [illegible] much duller in general business [illegible] a number of people [illegible] the volume of transactions [illegible] and trade was small. Monetary matters presented no attractions from the state of brisk demand and fair supply which has prevailed since the active movement in the grain market began.

The purchases of wheat during the week have been quite heavy, and the disbursements on these, together with advances made on that which is being shipped on the farmers' account, go to make up a very large outflow of coin, while the remittances from the interior have been slower this week than usual. Hence the available funds in market are shorter, but as yet no pressure is felt, and we hope to see all pull through safely.

Grain and Provision Reports.

Chicago elevators at the commencement of business October 5th contained 3,331,813 bushels of grain, embracing 1,405,905 bushels of wheat, 1,964,807 bushels of corn, 548,291 bushels of oats, 38,440 bushels of rye and 136,764 bushels of barley, against 2,607,188 bushels one week ago, and 6,433,734 bushels at the same period last year.

The stock of grain in Buffalo Monday October 5th was 140,000 bushels of wheat, 260,000 bushels of corn, 40,000 bushels of oats and 10,000 bushels of barley.

The visible supply of grain in the United States and Canada, September 26 was: Wheat 8,280,6[illegible]5 bushels, corn 5,612,070 bushels, oats 2,281,377 bushels, barley 555,793 bushels.

The exports of breadstuffs and provisions from the ports of Portland, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Boston and New Orleans for the week ending October 3 were: Pork 2,900 barrels, lard 1,984,000 pounds, bacon 2,410,000 pounds, flour 62,000 barrels, wheat 919,000 bush., corn 401,000 bush.

From the 16th of September, the commencement of the export season, to the 12th of October there were seven ships cleared from the Columbia River to foreign ports, laden with an aggregate of 2[illegible],284 bushels of wheat and 48½ barrels of flour, valued at $229,646 45.

A [illegible].—We have heard of no sales of wheat lately, and prices may be quoted at from 50 to 55 cents. Sellers are slow to take the former figure and buyers are not anxious to pay the latter. Quite a larger number of the Grangers are shipping direct to Liverpool, getting, we understand, an advance of 30 cents per bushel.

Our market to-day is unchanged.

WHICH MEANS THAT THE UNDERSIGNED are prepared to receive money on deposit and allow eight per cent. interest on three months and 9 per cent. on six months deposits. Depositors can draw their money however at any time by losing the interest and one hundred per cent. of the principal. We keep no hired help, live on cheap diet, buy our wearing apparel at a second hand clothing store, don't close up saturday afternoons at 1 o'clock, and by strict economy and taking more interest in our business than the Banks are enabled to offer extra inducements over them. Depositors will be doubly secure by leaving their money with us for immediately on its receipt we will loan it out, and a burglar sharp enough to go through our vaults and steal the notes would avail himself of the first good opportunity to return them and never attempt their collection on so small a per centage!

If your neighbor owes you, make a note of it and sell it to us.
If you want to rent a house come to us!
If you want to buy a farm or a house in the city also come!
If you want to borrow money come likewise!
If you want to loan your money by all means come.
